The Brown Mountain Lights. Spheres that float and dance in the sky, of unknown origin. Scientifically unexplained. Stories about the Lights have been recounted for documentation, and are known in the region for their draw. The Lights have been visually recorded when researchers and hikers make pilgrimage to where these lights can be seen at night.

I am looking to buy a multifamily (4 units) in Mountain View and live in one of the units. The other units are currently occupied and they have really low rents (almost half of market rents in the area). Would the rent control disallow the new owner to bring the rent to market value or it only applies to the current owner? Thanks
