Harry Chapin - Cat's in the Cradle Lyrics | Genius Lyrics

The use of "cat's in the cradle" to describe something dangerous appears to come from an old wives' tale that, if allowed into its crib, a cat would kill an infant by sucking out its breath. That certainly sounds far-fetched today, but it was a commonly held superstition back in the 1600s and 1700s.

What Does Cat's in the Cradle Mean?

"Cat's Cradle" is a simple sequence game played with a looped length of string. Two or more partners use the string to form various shapes, each building on the last. The goal of the game is to get to the last shape without making a mistake.

Harry Chapin - Cat's In The Cradle Lyrics | MetroLyrics

The repetitions of "the cats in the cradle" - indicate the child is at home alone - "and the silver spoon" which is a symbol of wealth the father has to earn. The "little boy blue" is the child that is sad because his father is away, while the father is represented by "the man on the moon" - the one far away who is unreachable, idealized by the child who sees the father as his male role model.
